CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

With a solid brand as foundation, China Lilang will adopt a prudent approach towards market development, focusing on the optimization of its existing store network and enhancement of retail network management. Apart from further promoting its new retail business, the Group will also strengthen sales and marketing, and inventory management so as to enhance the sales efficiency of the stores.

To all shareholders,

In 2020, the novel coronavirus erupted into a global pandemic (“COVID-19” or the “Pandemic”). At the same time, friction between China and the United States continued. Such developments, which were most severe in the first and second quarters, brought unprecedented challenges to China’s economic progress. In the face of various challenges, the whole country united to fight against the Pandemic. As the Pandemic was brought under control in the second half of the year, retail consumption recovered gradually.

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

In this unusual and challenging year, China Lilang Limited (the "Company" or "China Lilang", together with its subsidiaries known as the "Group") implemented flexible strategies to maintain healthy channels, lower inventory risks and accelerate new retail business development, while enhancing brand promotion. It also adopted a prudent approach towards store network development by opening stores in selected quality shopping malls while closing under-performing stores to improve operational efficiency.

For the year ended 31 December 2020, revenue decreased by 26.7% to RMB2,680.8 million year-on-year and net profit for the year decreased by 31.4% to RMB557.2 million.

During the year, the Group maintained a sound financial position with sufficient cash flows. The Board of Directors has resolved to pay a final dividend of HK19 cents per share and a special final dividend of HK8 cents per share, thus maintaining a relatively high payout ratio for the full year.

In general, the Group's key initiatives during the year have been to maintain healthy channels and reduce inventory to a satisfactory level. The Group decisively cancelled certain orders for the spring and summer collections and strictly controlled pre-orders for the fall and winter collections. It also accelerated destocking through various channels in the second half of the year. The inventory clearance in the second half of the year was effective, and currently both the inventory level and its ageing have improved. In addition, the financial liquidity of distributors also strengthened as compared with the interim period. Based on the balance of trade receivables as at the end of the year, the adjusted trade receivables turnover days reduced to 75 days.

New retail business experienced rapid growth during the year. To alleviate the impact of the decline in consumer traffic at physical stores on retail sales as well as distributors during the outbreak of the Pandemic, the Group stepped up efforts to promote the e-commerce business by organizing more marketing and promotional events online to boost e-commerce traffic. During the year, online store sales increased by more than 1.2 times. In addition, the Group also actively promoted the e-commerce business by using the WeChat platform. Online stores were set up on WeChat Mall for the core collection and the smart casual collection respectively to capitalize on the complementary advantages of online and offline services, and to effectively expand the virtual inventory and sales of physical stores.

As for brand promotion, the Group organized a range of promotions during the year to extend the brand to a young consumer demographic, among which the promotional campaign for the LILANZ X CHINA DAILY products won the "Gold Case Award" (實戰金案獎) and was accredited among the "Top 100 Branding Cases of the Year" (品牌100年度案例) in the 9th ADMEN International Award Presentation Ceremony (第九屆 ADMEN 國際大獎頒獎盛典). In addition, the in-depth interactive communication in colleges in respect of the promotion of LILANZ as the business wear brand of the new generation won the "Brand Rejuvenation Award" (品牌年輕化大獎) and the "Top 10 Brand Rejuvenation Cases Award" (品牌年輕化十大案例獎). In the fourth quarter, the Group engaged two top artists, Han Han and Li Dan, as brand ambassadors and carried out a series of promotional events which attracted tremendous attention from the market, and were hailed as being among the "2020 Top 15 Best Commented Cases" (2020年度口碑案例TOP 15) by the Advertising Gate (廣告門) APP.

Looking ahead to 2021, with COVID-19 vaccination commencing across the world, and a new leadership in the office in the United States, market stability is expected to be sustained. As a new development pattern is being formed based on domestic circulation, with domestic and international circulations reinforcing one another, and the Chinese government proactively encouraging the expansion of consumption, it is expected that new consumption will further evolve in a model involving online and offline integration. If the Pandemic situation remains under control, cautious optimism towards the retail market can be warranted.

In the wake of the Pandemic, and subsequent new normal, enterprises have to demonstrate utmost resilience. With a solid brand as foundation, China Lilang will adopt a prudent approach towards market development, focusing on the optimization of its existing store network and enhancement of retail network management. Apart from further promoting its new retail business, the Group will also strengthen sales and marketing, and inventory management so as to enhance the sales efficiency of the stores.

The Group converted the smart casual collection from the consignment model to direct-retailing last year, and the related transitional work has now been completed. The operations have been running smoothly after the change and the inventory level has decreased. To further control the retail end and reduce inventory risks, the Group will reform the operation model of the core collection this year by converting selected distributors with higher management capabilities to the consignment model from the 2021 spring and summer collections. This initiative covers 1,388 stores in provinces including Fujian, Shaanxi, Guizhou, and Henan (accounting for approximately 56% of the total store count of the core collection as at 31 December 2020 and around 60% of revenue from the core collection for 2020 before inventory buy-back provision). The change to consignment model will allow product transfers to become flexible, reduce the buffer inventory for individual stores, and enable the Group to manage inventory more effectively. In addition, the expanded virtual inventory of individual stores will help to improve store efficiency.

In order to further control the operation of the e-commerce business, the Group has turned its online stores into self-operated stores since January 2021, as opposed to distributor-operated stores. More online limited edition products will be launched this year, which will attract customer traffic and help build a more loyal customer base at the same time. In addition to having stores on online shopping platforms, online stores have been set up on the WeChat Mall for the core collection and smart casual collection; complementing the physical stores with virtual inventory to expand the customer base and increase sales efficiency.

The brand promotion campaign last year successfully attracted attention from the market as well as customers of a young demographic to the "LILANZ" brand. The Group will continue to invest in brand promotion to build customer loyalty and reach a wider customer base. The Group will also make use of the new store images to attract more customers. The seventh-generation store image revamp of the core collection will be rolled out across approximately 500 existing stores during this year. The smart casual collection also plans to launch a new store image in the second half of this year. In addition, the Group will continue to launch crossover products this year. For the 2021 spring and summer seasons, the core collection will continue to have LILANZ × CHINA DAILY crossover products, while the smart casual collection will launch crossover products with IP from the science fiction The Three-Body Universe. Online and offline promotional activities will be carried out for crossover product launches to attract market attention to the brand.

The Group will continue to adhere to the strategy of providing products that represent excellent value-for-money. As supply chain management has improved over the past few years, the Group's products show cost advantages over those of its peers. The gradual enhancement of fashion and design elements of the smart casual collection since the summer season of 2020 will be completed by the spring and summer seasons of 2021, which is expected to improve the profit margin of the smart casual collection.

The new headquarters in Fujian officially commenced operation last month, providing an ideal platform for the Group's future development. Phase I of the new logistics park is expected to open in the second half of this year, which will facilitate better inventory management within the Group.

In 2021, China Lilang will adopt a prudent strategy for store openings, targeting a net increase of 100 to 150 stores. The Group will continue to add stores in quality shopping malls in provincial capitals and prefecture-level cities, and will open more stores in selected outlets as a recurring channel for inventory clearance. The target for total retail sales growth is no less than 10%.

Over the past year, the Group has made a concerted effort to overcome challenges and difficulties, and has successfully dealt with the impact of the Pandemic, thanks to the support of shareholders and customers as well as the contributions of all staff. I hereby would like to express my sincere gratitude. The Group will continue adhering to its multi-brand strategy over the long run, as it endeavors to enhance the competitiveness and value-for-money of its product. In this way, China Lilang will further consolidate its leading position in the menswear industry in China and realize sustainable long-term growth, which in turn will enable it to reward shareholders, staff and customers for their support.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

INDUSTRY REVIEW

In 2020, the Pandemic raged worldwide and the friction between China and the United States continued, both of which exerted pressure on economic development. The macro environment in China faced various uncertainties. The central government adopted effective prevention and control measures to bring the Pandemic under control in China during the second half of the year. A new development pattern was proposed based on domestic circulation, with domestic and international circulations reinforcing one another, enabling the enhancement of domestic demand, encouraging innovation and promoting growth. This successfully turned the situation around and the economy recorded an unexpected recovery in the second half of the year. According to the National Bureau of Statistics, the country's gross domestic product (GDP) exceeded

RMB100 trillion for the first time in 2020, with a year-on-year growth of 2.3%. Although the annual total retail sales of consumer goods decreased by 3.9% year-on-year, the growth figure rebounded from negative to positive territory in the second half of the year and reached growth of 4.6% in the fourth quarter. Retail sales of apparel, footwear, headwear and knitwear followed a similar trend, with annual retail sales down by 6.6% year-on-year and retail sales up by 3.8% year-on-year in December.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

In face of the complex and volatile retail market, China Lilang adopted flexible strategies and promoted the new retail business to give full play to complementary advantages of online and offline. The Group also strived to keep the channel healthy and decisively cancelled some of the spring and summer orders while strictly controlling pre-orders for the fall and winter collections. The total retail sales of products resumed growth in the second half of the year, and both the inventory level and its ageing have improved.

In addition, the Group continued its strategy of providing products that offer excellent value-for-money and committed to original and individual designs. The Group's products show cost advantages after the continuous improvement of supply chain management over the past few years. The Group also promoted its brand to extend to customers of a younger demographic. A number of crossover products were launched during the year and artists were commissioned as brand ambassadors in the fourth quarter, drawing widespread attention from the market and consumers.

For the year ended 31 December 2020, the Group's revenue reduced by 26.7% year-on-year to RMB2,680.8 million, while net profit was RMB557.2 million and earnings per share were RMB46.53 cents, a decrease of 31.4% year-on-year for both.

During the year, the Group maintained a healthy financial position with sufficient cash flows. The Board of Directors recommended the payment of a final dividend of HK19 cents per share and a special final dividend of HK8 cents per share, thus maintaining a relatively high payout ratio.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Revenue

The Group's revenue for the year decreased by 26.7% to RMB2,680.8 million, which was after the provision for inventory buy-back totaling RMB390.0 million. As disclosed in the paragraph headed "Prospects", 1,388 stores of the core collection have been converted to the consignment model commencing from the 2021 spring and summer seasons. The Group would buy-back from these stores past-season inventories as at 28 February 2021. Provision for such inventory buy-back was made in 2020 and was deducted from revenue.

Excluding the effect of provision for inventory buy-back, the Group's revenue for the year decreased by 16.1% to RMB3,070.8 million. Although total retail sales of LILANZ products resumed growth in the second half of the year and total retail sales in the fourth quarter were up by 10%-15%, primarily benefiting from the nationwide cold weather, total annual retail sales dropped by approximately 10%-15% as sales of physical stores declined significantly in the first half of the year due to the Pandemic. In order to keep the channel healthy, the Group cancelled some of the 2020 spring and summer orders and reduced pre-orders for the 2020 fall and winter collections to speed up the destocking process. The Group's efforts relating to inventory clearance in the second half of the year have been effective; inventory level and its ageing have improved as a result.

A majority of stores for the smart casual collection switched to a direct-to-retail model on 1 July 2020, which replaced the consignment model previously adopted. Sales of these stores have been recognized at retail value since then.

By product category, based on revenue before the provision for inventory buy-back, tops remained the major contributor to revenue, accounting for 63.5% of revenue for the year (2019: 60.3%), with a drop of 13.6% in sales. Sales of accessories dropped 30.3% year-on-year as sales of footwear products decreased due to the large-scale inventory clearance by sports brands in the second half of the year.

Revenue by Region

Sales in all regions decreased year-on-year. Sales in the North-Western China region saw the smallest drop, with a mere 6.6% decrease in sales year-on-year. This was due to more stores in Shaanxi, the region's largest market, being moved to quality shopping malls and experiencing a comparatively rapid recovery in sales as a result.

The sales performance of the North-Eastern China region was the weakest, with sales falling by 39.2% year-on-year. Although the Pandemic in China has been under control since the second half of the year, retail consumption in the region has not fully recovered as there were a number of imported COVID-19 cases. In addition, the region had the highest proportion of store closures as the issue of population outflow continued.

The Eastern China and the Central and Southern China regions remained the top revenue contributors, accounting for 63.0% (2019: 61.3%) of total revenue before the provision for inventory buy-back. The retail stores in these two regions accounted for 54.9% (2019: 54.1%) of the total number of stores.

Cost of Sales and Gross Profit Margin

Cost of sales decreased by 34.5% to RMB1,477.0 million year-on-year. As sales decreased, outsourcing charges were down by 29.1% to RMB327.4 million.

The gross profit margin was 44.9%, up by 6.5 percentage points year-on-year. This was primarily due to the fact that the proposed inventory buy-back would be made at a price below the original wholesale price and that the 2019 gross profit margin was lower than usual as it reflected a one-off sales rebate. In addition, the retail gross profit margin of the smart casual collection in the second half of the year was higher than wholesale gross profit margin. These factors offset the impact of the higher fixed production overhead to revenue ratio as revenue declined.

Other Net Income

Other net income amounted to RMB105.5 million (2019: RMB 115.8 million), mainly comprising China's local government grants of RMB89.5 million (2019: RMB83.2 million). These local government grants were unconditional and at the discretion of relevant authorities.

Selling and Distribution Expenses

Selling and distribution expenses increased by 20.1% to RMB491.9 million, accounting for 16.0% of the revenue before the provision for inventory buy-back, up by 4.8 percentage points year-on-year. This sharp increase was primarily attributable to the operating expenses of the smart casual collection stores following the conversion to direct-to-retail on 1 July 2020.

Advertising expenses and renovation subsidies decreased by RMB63.9 million to RMB275.4 million, accounting for 9.0% of the revenue before provision for inventory buy-back (2019: 9.3%). A higher number of brand promotional activities were carried out during the year, and advertising expenses increased as a result. As for renovation subsidies, expenses decreased substantially as the number of store openings fell. The renovation costs for the smart casual collection direct-to-retail stores that were opened in the second half of the year were capitalized and subject to depreciation charge, and were not recognized as renovation subsidy expenses.

Administrative Expenses

Administrative expenses amounted to RMB108.4 million, up by RMB4.5 million from last year. These expenses increased to 3.5% of revenue before the provision for inventory buy-back (2019: 2.8%). Administrative expenses for the year included loss allowance provision of RMB7.4 million for trade receivables.

Other Operating Expenses

Other operating expenses mainly comprised compensation of RMB50.8 million paid to distributors for the conversion of the stores of the smart casual collection to direct-to-retail during the year and charitable donations of RMB4.6 million (2019: RMB25.2 million).

Profit from Operations

Profit from operations decreased by 33.5% to RMB651.4 million, which was mainly attributable to the decrease in sales and the provision for inventory buy-back. Although the gross profit margin increased year-on-year, the operating profit margin was down by 2.5 percentage points to 24.3%. This was due to the higher selling expenses for the smart casual collection after its conversion to the direct-to-retail model, the compensation expenses paid to distributors of the smart casual collection during the year, and increases in other expense ratios as sales declined.

Net Finance Income

Net finance income was RMB43.4 million, which was slightly lower than last year, of which interest income decreased by RMB6.9 million to RMB44.8 million as both the average cash balance and bank deposit interest rate decreased during the year.

Income Tax

The effective income tax rate was 19.8% for the year, down by 0.9 percentage point over last year. This was mainly due to the recognition of tax benefits of certain prior year's expense deductions confirmed by the relevant tax authorities during the year. One of the Group's subsidiaries in China has obtained the "Advanced and New Technology Enterprise" status and is eligible for a preferential tax rate of 15% between 2019 and 2021, while another two subsidiaries established by the Group in Tibet are eligible for a local preferential tax rate of 15%.

Net Profit

Net profit was RMB557.2 million for the year, down by 31.4%, which was mainly attributable to the decrease in sales revenue for the year and the provision for inventory buy-back. Net profit margin declined by 1.4 percentage points to 20.8%.

Earnings per Share

Earnings per share were RMB46.53 cents, down by 31.4%.

Final Dividend

The Board has resolved to distribute payment of a final dividend of HK19 cents (2019: HK21 cents) per ordinary share and a special final dividend of HK8 cents (2019: HK10 cents) per ordinary share in respect of this financial year, making a total dividend payment of approximately HK$323.3 million (equivalent to approximately RMB271.4 million). The final dividend and special final dividend will be paid in cash on or around 21 May 2021 to shareholders whose names appear on the Company's register of members on 6 May 2021.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Sales Channel Management

Through the LILANZ direct-to-retail stores and retail stores operated by distributors, the Group has established a distinctive brand image, in addition to providing professional retail services and an outstanding shopping experience so as to drive sales. During the year, a wholesale model was adopted to sell its core collection to distributors, while the smart casual collection has switched from a consignment model to direct-retailing in the second half of the year. The aim is to strengthen the management of areas such as inventory, market development, brand marketing and training of retail personnel.

The retail industry in China was hit hard by the Pandemic over the first half of the year. The Group pragmatically supported distributors in optimizing the retail network by closing underperforming stores while opening stores in carefully selected quality shopping malls to upgrade the channel. In addition, the Group encouraged distributors to open stores in outlet malls in the second half of the year as a recurring channel for inventory clearance.

As at the end of December 2020, LILANZ had a total of 2,761 retail stores nationwide, representing a net decrease of 54 stores during the year. Total retail floor area was approximately 398,900 square meters (31 December 2019: 406,400 square meters), representing a decrease of 1.8% as compared with the end of last year. Among which, there were 295 specialty stores for the smart casual collection, a net increase of 5 stores during the year.

Changes in the number of LILANZ stores in different regions are as follows:

Region	Number of Stores			As at 31 December 2020
	As at 1 January 2020	Opened during the year	Closed during the year
Northern China	299	34	39	294

South-Western China	505	47	58	494
North-Western China	288	20	37	271
Total	2,815	271	325	2,761

As at the end of December 2020, the number of stores in shopping malls increased to 807 (31 December 2019: 780), accounting for approximately 29% of the total store count and approximately 32% of total retail floor area. There were a total of 36 outlet stores.

The Group has established stable relations with its distributors, with all distributors having maintained business relationships with the Group for over a decade. As at 31 December 2020, LILANZ had 90 distributors and 747 sub-distributors. Among the 2,761 stores, 287 stores were the Group's direct-to-retail stores, and the other stores were operated by distributors or sub-distributors respectively.

The number of stores is analyzed as follows:

	Number of distributors	Number of stores	Number of distributors	Number of stores
Direct-to-retail stores	—	287	—	1
Distributors	90	1,348	78	1,663

Stores in shopping malls and outlet malls		843		780
Shop-in-shops in department stores		309		306
Total number of stores		2,761		2,815

The Group monitors the sales and inventory of stores via the ERP system. During the year, in order to alleviate channel inventory pressure, the Group cancelled some of the 2020 spring and summer orders for the core collection and reduced 2020 fall and winter pre-orders. In addition, various promotional activities were organized both online and offline to accelerate inventory clearance. These efforts successfully improved the inventory level and its ageing.

The seventh-generation store image for the core collection launched by the Group on a pilot basis at its newly opened stores last year was also adopted by the new stores opened in 2020. However, the plan for rolling out the new generation store image to existing stores has been postponed until 2021.

New Retail Development

New retailing has been one of the Group's top priorities for business development in recent years. The Pandemic quickened the development of e-commerce during the year, and the Group made further efforts to boost online customer traffic by organizing various promotional activities, including placing advertisements on web portals and commissioning internet celebrities to promote products, and to expand the business of the LILANZ core collection and smart casual collection by integrating online services with offline in-store experiences and the comprehensive logistics services. All of these efforts also helped to mitigate the impact of the Pandemic on sales.

Online stores have been set up on major online shopping platforms for both the LILANZ core collection and smart casual collection. During the year, online store sales increased by more than 1.2 times year-on-year, largely in respect of inventory clearance sales.

In addition to online stores, the Group also actively promoted its business via the WeChat platform. Along with using the WeChat system to provide customer relationship management services, the Group also set up stores in WeChat Mall for the smart casual collection and the core collection respectively, with the aim of further capitalizing on the complementary advantages of online and offline stores. While the interactive characteristics of this social networking platform facilitate brand promotion, stores in the WeChat Mall also enlarge the virtual inventories of physical stores, leading to higher sales efficiency per store in tandem with more effective inventory control.

Product Design, Development and Supply Chain Management

The Group continued to adhere to personality-themed and original designs for its products as well as differentiating itself from its peers by providing products with great value-for-money. The proportion of originally designed products was maintained at approximately 70% among products available for sale during the year, and the proportion of these products utilizing proprietary fabrics developed by the Group was around 50%, which were both in line with the target levels. Meanwhile, the Group's plan to gradually upgrade the fashion elements and design of products of the smart casual collection starting from the 2020 summer season will be completed in the 2021 spring and summer seasons. It is expected that the profitability of the collection could be improved as a result.

To support environmental protection, the Group launched an eco-friendly jeans collection in its 2020 spring and summer collections. Such jeans are made of blended fabrics of cotton yarn and polyester yarn extracted from recycled plastic bottles. On average, each pair of jeans uses seven plastic bottles. Elsewhere, the Group gradually adopted the latest washing technology in the process of producing jean products in order to effectively reduce waste and significantly save on labor, water and energy consumption.

The Group's international and local research and development teams have continued to keep abreast of popular trends in the international market. With the objective of meeting the fashion needs of mainland China's consumers, the teams have focused on designing value-for-money menswear products that are simple, fashionable, and in style, matching the different market positions of the core and smart casual collections. There are currently around 450 staff members in the Group's research and development department, engaging in areas such as product design, material development and sample creation, all striving to increase the overall competitiveness of the Group's products.

Brand Management and Promotion

China Lilang owns and operates the LILANZ brand and sells menswear products in two collections – the core collection and the smart casual collection. The core collection, mainly targeting consumers aged 25 to 45, has been well-received in traditional third- and fourth-tier markets and is gradually expanding into first- and second-tier markets. The smart casual collection, targeting consumers aged 20 to 30 in first- and second-tier markets, comprises more classic products than the core collection.

In addition to placing advertisements on web portals and engaging internet celebrities to promote e-commerce, the Group launched a variety of brand promotional events during the year.

In the second quarter, the Group sponsored the costumes of actors in an urban hit drama, 《誰說我結不了婚》 (“Who Says I Can't Get Married?”), showcasing the fashionable brand image of LILANZ through costume designs that matched the characters and the plot. The show was broadcast simultaneously on CCTV8 and several internet stations from late-May to mid-June and attracted a huge audience, greatly enhancing LILANZ's brand awareness and reputation.

In the fourth quarter, the Group engaged Han Han (a writer, director, and professional racer) and Li Dan (a stand-up comedian, screenwriter, writer, and program coordinator) as LILANZ brand ambassadors. This brand-new duo was featured in various advertisements to showcase LILANZ's young product positioning, which satisfied the diversified demands of consumers of the new generation and increased customers' recognition of the brand. The related online and offline promotional events have attracted extensive market attention.

During the year, the Group launched LILANZ crossover products with China Daily, Chinese comic “Under One Person”, Japanese cartoon “Doraemon”, US graffiti artist Jean Michel Basquiat and emerging artist Nick etc., respectively. Through its novel and fashionable style of products, the brand has become more youthful, drawing attention from the market as well as increasing the value of the brand.

The Group also continued to work with the Academy Award of Advertising Festival of Chinese College Students to solicit publicity plans and ideas for its brand and products from college students. The online creative theme solicitation tours for the spring and fall seasons engaged over a million college students, further enhancing brand awareness among a young consumer demographic.

Awards

A number of promotional campaigns launched by the Group during the year won awards from the advertising industry. The Group was granted several awards during the 9th ADMEN International Award Presentation Ceremony (第九屆ADMEN國際大獎頒獎盛典). The promotional campaign for the LILANZ X CHINA DAILY products won the “Gold Case Award” (實戰金案獎) and was accredited among the “Top 100 Branding Cases of the Year” (品牌100年度案例), and the in-depth interactive communication in colleges in respect of the promotion of LILANZ as the business wear brand of the new generation won the “Brand Rejuvenation Award” (品牌年輕化大獎) and the “Top 10 Brand Rejuvenation Cases Award” (品牌年輕化十大案例獎). The advertising campaigns with the new brand ambassadors were hailed as being among the “2020 Top 15 Best Commented Cases” (2020年度口碑案例TOP 15) by Advertising Gate APP (廣告門 APP).

In addition, LILANZ was accredited with the “2020 Trend-leading Brand of New Business Menswear” (2020年度引領時尚新商務男裝品牌) at the 15th Asia Brand Ceremony (15屆亞洲品牌盛典), held by various brand valuation agencies such as Asiabrand.

PROSPECTS

Going into 2021, the economies of countries across the world will continue to be hit hard by the Pandemic, posing challenges for the macro-economic environment. Nevertheless, with its effective epidemic control measures, China's economy has been recovering rapidly. Though there are still a few sporadic outbreaks, social activities have generally returned to normal, providing favorable conditions for the retail market. In addition, the new structure of dual circulation as proposed by the central government encourages residents to expand their consumption, which can lead to consumption upgrade and drive economic growth. Therefore, the Group is cautiously optimistic about the development of the retail market.

In 2021, China Lilang will adopt a prudent strategy for store openings which will focus on optimizing the existing store network, and will further strengthen the management of the retail network. The Group will continue to add more stores in quality shopping malls in provincial capitals and prefecture level cities and will also add stores in outlets as a recurring channel for inventory clearance. The plan for the year is to add 100 to 150 stores and the target for total retail sales growth is 10% or more.

In order to more closely control the retail stores and reduce inventory risk, the Group will reform the operation model of the core collection in 2021 by converting selected distributors with higher management capability to the consignment operation model starting from the 2021 spring and summer collections. This initiative covers 1,388 stores in areas including Fujian, Shaanxi, Guizhou, and Henan (accounting for approximately 56% of the total store count of the core collection as at 31 December 2020 and around 60% of revenue from the core collection for 2020 before inventory buy-back provision). Under the consignment model, the Group would be able to

As for brand promotion, the Group will continue to organize a range of activities through online and offline channels to promote its brand, and launch crossover products with China Daily or other parties. The use of new store images to showcase a more fashionable and fresh brand image to attract more customers is also in the plan. The seventh-generation store image renovation of the core collection will gradually roll out to the existing stores, with a plan to cover about 500 existing stores in 2021. In doing so, the Group will use different decorative materials, subject to the different market positions of the stores, to achieve better cost efficiency. It also plans to launch a new store image for the smart casual collection in the second half of 2021.

As for product positioning, the Group will continue to adhere to the strategy of providing products that represent excellent value-for-money. As supply chain management has improved over the past few years, the Group's products show cost advantages over those of its peers. In addition, the project to enhance the fashion and design elements of the smart casual collection since the 2020 summer season will be completed by the 2021 spring and summer seasons, which is expected to improve the profit margin of the smart casual collection.

Operations at the new headquarters in Fujian began in February 2021, providing a new step forward for the Group's development. Phase I of the new logistics park is targeted for opening in the second half of 2021, which will facilitate better inventory management within the Group.

The Pandemic has accelerated the consolidation of the menswear industry where only the fittest would survive, and competitive brands would stand out and gain a larger market share. As a well-established menswear enterprise, China Lilang is confident that it will continue to outperform other industry peers. The Group will further improve its sales and marketing management and prepare itself for the full recovery of the market. In the long run, China Lilang will retain its multi-brand strategy as it endeavors to strengthen its product competitiveness and value-for-money. This will further consolidate its leading position in the menswear industry in China and realize sustainable long-term growth to reward its shareholders, staff and customers for the support they have shown to the Group.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

(A) ENVIRONMENT

The Group is committed to achieving environmental sustainability and incorporating it in daily operations, in strict compliance with the Environmental Protection Law of the People's Republic of China (the "PRC"), the Energy Conservation Law of the PRC and other related regulations. As the Group is principally engaged in the design, manufacturing and sales of apparel products, its operating activities do not generate any emissions or wastes that would severely pollute the environment.

This report covers the Group's headquarters in Jinjiang City, Fujian Province (the "Headquarters") and its production facilities in Wuli Industrial Park, Fujian Province (the "Wuli Plant"). The Headquarters comprises office premises, fabric research and development and testing centres, a workshop for samples and small production orders, flagship stores, staff dormitories (including canteens, a coffee shop and a gym) and also the venue for the three trade fairs held every year.

Aspect A1: Emissions

The Group has formulated a production-plant management manual, setting out measures such as lawful discharge of sewage, reduction of air emissions by using clean energy for the boiler and reduction of non-hazardous wastes generated during the production process.

Air and greenhouse gas emissions generated by the Group's operating activities are limited. The Group does not own vehicle fleets, the transportation of raw materials and products are all outsourced to third-party transportation service providers. In addition, electricity consumed by both the Headquarters and the Wuli Plant is supplied by a hydropower plant. Hydropower transforms the potential energy of water without consuming any fossil fuels, it is therefore widely considered as a clean energy that does not emit any greenhouse gases such as carbon dioxide (CO₂) and methane (CH₄). Starting from September 2017, natural gas is used instead of coal for the boiler in the Wuli Plant to boil water to steam-iron apparels. This has significantly reduced air emissions. Regular repairs and maintenance work for the boiler is carried out by the Group to ensure it functions normally. Every year the Group commissions a third-party professional organization to audit air emissions from the boiler to ensure compliance with relevant laws and regulations.

The operating activities of the Group do not produce any hazardous wastes. The Wuli Plant has adopted the following measures to maximize the utilization rate of fabrics, thereby controlling costs and reducing scraps, non-hazardous wastes, generated during the production process:

- 1) Strictly adhere to the minimal usage of fabrics and optimize cutting layouts with a computer program, based on product designs and respective fabric-waste allowances;
- 2) Reduce fabric wastes by providing training to workers to enhance their skills and by introducing templates to improve sewing accuracy; and
- 3) Optimize production equipment to avoid fabric wastes due to equipment ageing or failure. Several automatic fabric-cutting machines have been added in the past few years, replacing manual labour to improve the accuracy in cutting fabrics, while regular repairs and maintenance for production machinery and equipment are carried out.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT (CONTINUED)

Scraps are regularly collected by recyclers to be converted into or reused in other products (such as gloves).

The operating activities of the Group generate limited amount of industrial sewage which is discharged through the municipal sewage system equipped with filters, ensuring no significant impact on the surrounding environment.

According to the key performance indicators (“KPIs”) as set out in Appendix 27 to the Listing Rules, the Group’s performance on sustainable development in terms of air and greenhouse gas emissions and waste generation is summarised as follows:

KPIs	For the year ended 31 December 2020
A1.1	Type of emissions and respective emissions data	Total air emissions (particulates, NO _x and SO ₂) of the boiler (note 1) were 0.65 tonnes (2019: 0.34 tonnes) for the year. Total air emissions increased year-on-year but were still negligible. The intensity (based on the total annual production cost of the Wuli Plant (note 2)) is negligible. Total air emissions reduced significantly after using natural gas instead of coal for the boiler since September 2017.
A1.2	Total greenhouse gas emissions and intensity	As noted above, greenhouse gas emissions generated by the Group’s operating activities are limited.
A1.3	Total hazardous wastes produced and intensity	The operating activities of the Group have not produced any hazardous wastes.
A1.4	Total non-hazardous wastes produced and intensity (based on the total annual production cost of the Wuli Plant (note 2))	Scraps of 244.86 tonnes (2019: 359.47 tonnes); intensity of 0.69 Kg/RMB’000 (2019: 0.83 Kg/RMB’000). The intensity reduced as fabric costs as a percentage of manufacturing costs reduced year-on-year.
A1.5	Measures to mitigate emissions and results achieved	Natural gas is used instead of coal for the boiler since September 2017 and air emissions have been significantly reduced as a result. Regular repairs and maintenance work for the boiler is carried out by the Group to ensure it functions normally. The air emissions of the boiler conformed to the requirements of relevant laws and regulations.

KPIs	For the year ended 31 December 2020
A1.6 How hazardous and non-hazardous wastes are handled, reduction initiatives and results achieved	The operating activities of the Group have not produced any hazardous wastes. In respect of non-hazardous wastes, the Group strictly controls the usage of fabrics and reduces scraps through production equipment upgrades, using a computer program to optimize cutting layouts and training workers. Scraps produced are collected by recyclers to be reused in other products.

Note 1: This assumes an average annual total working hours of the boiler is 2,200 hours.

Note 2: Total annual production cost of the Wuli Plant equals to total cost of sales less OEM procurement costs, subcontracting costs, inventory write-down and sales tax surcharges, and excludes the impact of provision for inventory buy-back.

Aspect A2: Use of Resources

The Group adheres to the “5S management system” and requires all employees to conserve water and electricity. Posters are put up in the office area and across the plant to enhance employees’ awareness of energy saving and emission reduction. In respect of the use of electricity, both the Headquarters and the Wuli Plant have switched to LED lighting since late 2015. Security guards in the Wuli Plant check and make sure all production equipment and the lights in production workshops are powered off during lunch hour and after work. In respect of the use of natural gas for the boiler, the Group conducts regular repairs and maintenance for the boiler to reduce any potential waste of resources due to equipment ageing or failure. In respect of water usage in production, water used in the boiler in the Wuli Plant is recycled through reflux line to improve water efficiency.

In respect of raw materials of products, the Group strictly controls the usage of raw materials based on the requirements of individual orders and reduces wastes through production equipment upgrades, training workers and using a computer program to optimize cutting layouts. As for the use of packaging materials, the Group avoids excessive packaging and maintains an appropriate balance between cost control, product protection and consumer expectation. More environmental-friendly paper bags are used as shopping bags. Certain products are also individually packaged in plastic bags, non-woven bags or paper boxes for the protection against dirt, dust or damp.

The resources used in the Wuli Plant during the past two years are summarised as follows:

		For the year ended 31 December

	Intensity (based on annual cost of sales (note 3))	0.66 Kg/RMB'000	0.97 Kg/RMB'000

Note 1: Total annual production cost of the Wuli Plant equals to total cost of sales less OEM procurement costs, subcontracting costs, inventory write-down and sales tax surcharges, and excludes the impact of provision for inventory buy-back.

Note 2: This includes paper shopping bags, and also plastic bags and non-woven bags used for the individual packaging of certain products produced in the Wuli Plant. Packaging materials of individual products purchased from OEM suppliers are excluded.

Note 3: Total cost of sales excludes the impact of the provision for inventory buy-back.

The consumption of electricity, natural gas, and water in the Wuli Plant varies, depending on the types of products, nature of fabrics, production processes as well as weather and temperature. The intensity of electricity consumption in Wuli Plant increased by 26.2% during the year as more electronic production equipments have been added in the past few years. In particular, more high electricity consumption equipments were added for the production lines of leisure footwear in mid 2019. The intensity of natural gas consumption increased as sales dropped year-on-year. As for packaging materials, the decrease in intensity based on annual cost of sales mainly reflected the cancellation of individual packaging of certain products since mid 2019 and the increase in sales contribution from e-commerce for which product packaging requirements are less stringent.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT (CONTINUED)

The resources used by the Headquarters during the past two years are summarised as follows:

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT (CONTINUED)

Aspect A3: The Environment and Natural Resources

The Group's operating activities have no direct or significant impact on the environment and natural resources.

In respect of the control over the use of natural resources, water used in the boiler in the Wuli Plant is recycled through reflux line for better water efficiency. In addition, the Group promotes a paperless office and reduces the use of paper by using ERP system, OA system and mobile phone applications.

In respect of the control over the materials used in products, the Wuli Plant has adopted the following measures to maximize the utilization rate of fabrics and reduce wastes:

- 1) Strictly adhere to the minimal usage of fabrics and optimize cutting layouts with a computer program, based on product designs and respective fabric-waste allowances;
- 2) Reduce fabric wastes by providing training to workers to enhance their skills and by introducing templates to improve sewing accuracy; and
- 3) Optimize production equipment to avoid fabric wastes due to equipment ageing or failure. Several automatic fabric-cutting machines have been added over the past few years to improve the accuracy in cutting fabrics, while regular repairs and maintenance for production machinery and equipment are carried out.

In addition, the Group has started using more eco-friendly fabrics made from bamboo fiber for some of its products since 2015; however, this accounted for a relatively small proportion of the total sales volume, as the current market demand for this kind of product is still low.

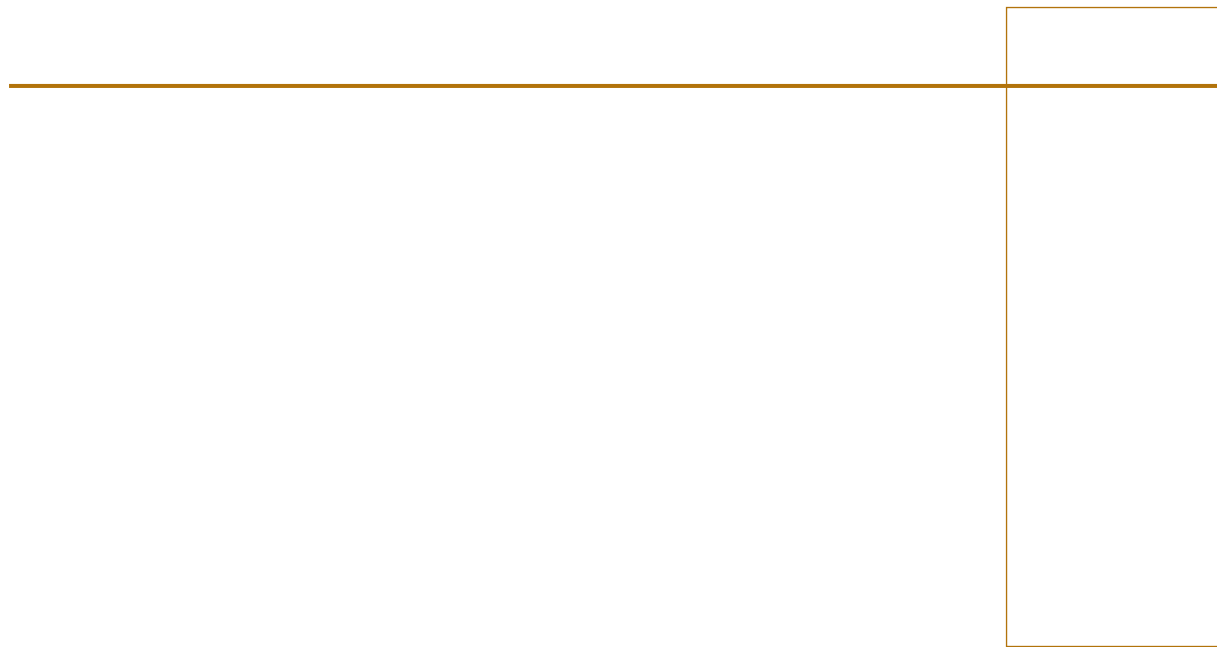

As another initiative to promote sustainable fashion, starting from the 2020 spring and summer collections, the Group has launched a new eco-friendly jeans collection. The products under this collection is made with blended fabrics of cotton yarn and polyester yarn extracted from recycled plastic bottles; each pair of jeans on average uses about seven plastic bottles, an effective way to dispose and recycle a quantity of plastics. In addition, hangtag and other accessory materials for this collection are sourced from suppliers engaged in sustainable practices.

To reduce the use of other resources in the production of jeans, the Group has adopted the latest washing technology in the washing process of some of its jeans products, which reduces water consumption by about 20% on average and also saves labor and energy consumption.

The Group plans to launch various eco-friendly products for the 2021 fall and winter collections as special edition products for its online shops. These products will be made with eco-friendly fabrics from recycled plastics and/or fast-growing non-edible plants, which will be sourced from suppliers with sustainable practice certification.

Aspect A4: Climate Change

The Group's business is susceptible to climate change. Extreme or unseasonable weather conditions would severely affect retail sales performance and increase inventory risk. To reduce the impact of climate change on the business, the Group has adjusted its product mix over the past few years to increase the proportion of season-neutral products such as footwears and reduce the proportion of outerwears for cold weather. In addition, starting from the 2020 fall season, the Group has lowered the pre-order levels in trade fairs, and

Aspect B2: Health and Safety

The Group cares about the health, working environment and safety of its employees. The artistically decorated new headquarters and the beautiful green areas at the Wuli Plant offer a cosy working environment to the employees. We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing (“HKSA”) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA’s Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (“the Code”) together with any ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in the Cayman Islands, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Revenue recognition
Refer to note 3 to the consolidated financial statements and the accounting policies on page 85
The Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
Revenue principally comprises sales of menswear goods, including tops, pants and accessories to distributors and through consignees. Every year, the Group enters into a framework distribution agreement with each distributor and a consignment agreement with each consignee and manufactures or sources its products in accordance with the terms of separate purchase orders. For sales to distributors, once the products are delivered to the location designated by the distributor which is the point at which the control of the menswear goods is considered to have been transferred to the distributor and the point at which revenue is recognised. For sales through consignees, once the products are sold to end users by the consignee, the control of the goods is considered to have been transferred in accordance with the terms of consignment agreements and revenue is recognised at that point. The Group receives confirmations of the transaction amounts from the consignees on a monthly basis. We identified the recognition of revenue as a key audit matter because revenue is one of the key performance indicators of the Group and therefore there is an inherent risk of misstatement of revenue by management to meet specific targets.	Our audit procedures to assess the recognition of revenue included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • assessing the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of management's key internal controls over revenue recognition; • inspecting agreements with distributors and consignees, on a sample basis, to understand the terms of the sales transactions including the terms of delivery, rebate and sales return to assess if the Group's revenue recognition criteria were in accordance with the requirements of the prevailing accounting standards; • assessing, on a sample basis, whether specific revenue transactions around the financial year end had been recognised in the appropriate financial period by comparing the transactions selected with relevant supporting documents, including goods delivery notes or monthly confirmations from consignees and the terms of sale as set out in the distribution or consignment agreements; • identifying significant credit notes issued and sales returns from the sales ledger after the year end and inspecting relevant underlying documentation to assess if the related adjustments to revenue had been accounted for in the appropriate financial period in accordance with the requirements of the prevailing accounting standards; • obtaining external confirmations of the value of sales transactions for the year ended 31 December 2020 and outstanding trade receivable balances as at that date directly from distributors and consignees, on a sample basis; • selecting a sample of sales journals during the financial year that met certain risk-based criteria and comparing details of these journals with the relevant supporting documents; and • inspecting a sample of manual adjustments to revenue raised during the reporting period, enquiring of management the reasons for such adjustments and comparing the details of the adjustments with relevant underlying documentation.

INFORMATION OTHER THAN THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND AUDITOR'S REPORT THEREON

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all the information included in the annual report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIRECTORS FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs issued by the IASB and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. This report is made solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSA's will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and, where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is Guen Kin Shing.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Expressed in Renminbi)

1 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Statement of compliance

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with all applicable International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”), which collective term includes all applicable individual International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards (“IASs”) and interpretations issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the “IASB”) and the applicable disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

These financial statements also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”). A summary of significant accounting policies adopted by the Group is set out below.

The IASB has issued certain amendments to IFRSs that are first effective or available for early adoption for the current accounting period of the Group. Note 2 provides information on any changes in accounting policies resulting from initial application of these developments to the extent that they are relevant to the Group for the current accounting period reflected in these financial statements.

(b) Basis of preparation of the financial statements

The consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2020 comprise the Company and its subsidiaries (together referred to as the “Group”).

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Renminbi (“RMB”) rounded to the nearest thousand. The measurement basis used in the preparation of the financial statements is the historical cost basis except that the derivative financial instruments are stated at fair value as explained in note 1(v).

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Judgements made by management in the application of IFRSs that have significant effect on the financial statements and major sources of estimation uncertainty are discussed in note 32.

(Expressed in Renminbi)

(c) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. The Group controls an entity when it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. When assessing whether the Group has power, only substantive rights (held by the Group and other parties) are considered.

An investment in a subsidiary is consolidated into the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases. Intra-group balances, transactions and cash flows and any unrealised profits arising from intra-group transactions are eliminated in full in preparing the consolidated financial statements. Unrealised losses resulting from intra-group transactions are eliminated in the same way as unrealised gains but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

In the Company's statement of financial position, an investment in a subsidiary is stated at cost less impairment losses (see note 1(h)(ii)).

(d) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment (including construction in progress) are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses (see note 1(h)(ii)).

The cost of self-constructed items of property, plant and equipment includes the cost of materials, direct labour, the initial estimate, where relevant, of the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located, and an appropriate proportion of production overheads and borrowing costs (see note 1(t)).

No depreciation is provided in respect of construction in progress.

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment, less their estimated residual value, if any, using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives as follows:

- Buildings held for own use which are situated on leasehold land are depreciated over the shorter of the unexpired term of lease and their estimated useful lives, being no more than 40 years after the date of completion.
- Leasehold improvements shorter of 5 years or remaining term of the lease
- Plant and machinery 10 years
- Motor vehicles 5 years
- Office equipment 5 years
- Furniture and fixtures 5 years

(Expressed in Renminbi)

Both the useful life of an asset and its residual value, if any, are reviewed annually.

Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item and are recognised in profit or loss on the date of retirement or disposal.

(e) Investment properties

Investment properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses (see note 1(h)(ii)).

Depreciation is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the shorter of the unexpired term of the lease and its estimated useful life, being no more than 40 years after the date of completion.

(f) Leased assets

At inception of a contract, the Group assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. Control is conveyed where the customer has both the right to direct the use of the identified asset and to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from that use.

(i) As a lessee

Where the contract contains lease component(s) and non-lease component(s), the Group has elected not to separate non-lease components and accounts for each lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component for all leases.

At the lease commencement date, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, except for short-term leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets. When the Group enters into a lease in respect of a low-value asset, the Group decides whether to capitalise the lease on a lease-by-lease basis. The lease payments associated with those leases which are not capitalised are recognised as an expense on a systematic basis over the lease term.

Where the lease is capitalised, the lease liability is initially recognised at the present value of the lease payments payable over the lease term, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, using a relevant incremental borrowing rate. After initial recognition, the lease liability is measured at amortised cost and interest expense is calculated using the effective interest method. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or rate are not included in the measurement of the lease liability and hence are charged to profit or loss in the accounting period in which they are incurred.

The right-of-use asset recognised when a lease is capitalised is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability plus any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, and any initial direct costs incurred. Where applicable, the cost of the right-of-use assets also includes an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, discounted to their present value, less any lease incentives received. The right-of-use asset is subsequently stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses (see note 1(h)(ii)).

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of items of right-of-use assets, using the straight-line method over the unexpired term of leases as follows:

— Land use rights	50 years
— Properties leased for own use	1-5 years

The lease liability is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, or there is a change in the Group's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or there is a change arising from the reassessment of whether the Group will be reasonably certain to exercise a purchase, extension or termination option. When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

The lease liability is also remeasured when there is a change in the scope of a lease or the consideration for a lease that is not originally provided for in the lease contract ("lease modification") that is not accounted for as a separate lease. In this case the lease liability is remeasured based on the revised lease payments and lease term using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification. The only exceptions are any rent concessions which arose as a direct consequence of the COVID-19 Pandemic and which satisfied the conditions set out in paragraph 46B of IFRS 16 Leases. In such cases, the Group took advantage of the practical expedient set out in paragraph 46A of IFRS 16 and recognised the change in consideration as if it were not a lease modification.

The Group presents right-of-use assets and lease liabilities separately in the consolidated statement of financial position. The current portion of long-term lease liabilities is determined as the present value of contractual payments that are due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period.

(ii) As a lessor

When the Group acts as a lessor, it determines at lease inception whether each lease is a finance lease or an operating lease. A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to the ownership of an underlying assets to the lessee. If this is not the case, the lease is classified as an operating lease.

When a contract contains lease and non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each component on a relative stand-alone selling price basis. The rental income from operating leases is recognised in accordance with note 1(r)(iv).

(g) Intangible assets

Intangible assets that are acquired by the Group are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation (where the estimated useful life is finite) and impairment losses (see note 1(h)(ii)).

Amortisation of intangible assets with finite useful lives is charged to profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the assets' estimated useful lives. The following intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortised from the date they are available for use and their estimated useful lives are as follows:

- Computer software 5 years

Both the useful life and method of amortisation are reviewed annually.

(h) Credit losses and impairment of assets

(i) Credit losses from financial assets

The Group recognises a loss allowance for expected credit losses ("ECLs") on financial assets measured at amortised cost (including cash and cash equivalents, pledged bank deposits, and trade and other receivables).

Measurement of ECLs

ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses are measured as the present value of all expected cash shortfalls (i.e. the difference between the cash flows due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive).

The expected cash shortfalls are discounted using the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition or an approximation thereof for fixed-rate financial assets and trade and other receivables where the effect of discounting is material.

The maximum period considered when estimating ECLs is the maximum contractual period over which the Group is exposed to credit risk.

(Expressed in Renminbi)

(h) Credit losses and impairment of assets (Continued)

In measuring ECLs, the Group takes into account reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort. This includes information about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

ECLs are measured on either of the following bases:

- 12-month ECLs: these are losses that are expected to result from possible default events within the 12 months after the reporting date; and
- lifetime ECLs: these are losses that are expected to result from all possible default events over the expected lives of the items to which the ECL model applies.

Loss allowances for trade receivables are always measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs. ECLs on trade receivables are estimated using a provision matrix based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors and an assessment of both the current and forecast general economic conditions at the reporting date.

For all other financial instruments, the Group recognises a loss allowance equal to 12-month ECLs unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk of the financial instrument since initial recognition, in which case the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs.

Significant increases in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of default occurring on the financial asset assessed at the reporting date with that assessed at the date of initial recognition. In making this reassessment, the Group considers that a default event occurs when (i) the borrower is unlikely to pay its credit obligations to the Group in full, without recourse by the Group to actions such as realising security (if any is held); or (ii) the financial asset is 90 days past due. The Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition:

- failure to make payments of principal or interest on their contractually due dates;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in a financial asset's external or internal credit rating (if available);
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor; and
- existing or forecast changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have a significant adverse effect on the debtor's ability to meet its obligation to the Group.

Depending on the nature of the financial assets, the assessment of a significant increase in credit risk is performed on either an individual basis or a collective basis. When the assessment is performed on a collective basis, the financial assets are grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics, such as past due status and credit risk ratings.

ECLs are remeasured at each reporting date to reflect changes in the financial assets' credit risk since initial recognition. Any change in the ECL amount is recognised as an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss. The Group recognises an impairment gain or loss for all financial assets with a corresponding adjustment to their carrying amount through a loss allowance account.

Basis of calculation of interest income

Interest income recognised in accordance with note 1(r)(ii) is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit-impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on the amortised cost (i.e. the gross carrying amount less loss allowance) of the financial asset.

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether a financial asset is credit-impaired. A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

(Expressed in Renminbi)

(h) Credit losses and impairment of assets (Continued)

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes the following observable events:

- significant financial difficulties of the debtor;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments;
- it becoming probable that the borrower will enter into bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation;
- significant changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have an adverse effect on the debtor; or
- the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties of the issuer.

Write-off policy

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off (either partially or in full) to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. This is generally the case when the Group determines that the debtor does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off.

Subsequent recoveries of an asset that was previously written off are recognised as a reversal of impairment in profit or loss in the period in which the recovery occurs.

(h) Credit losses and impairment of assets (Continued)

(ii) Impairment of other non-current assets

Internal and external sources of information are reviewed at the end of each reporting period to identify indications that the following assets may be impaired or an impairment loss previously recognised no longer exists or may have decreased:

- property, plant and equipment;
- construction in progress;
- investment properties;
- right-of-use assets;
- intangible assets; and
- investments in subsidiaries in the Company's statement of financial position.

If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

- Calculation of recoverable amount
The recoverable amount of an asset is the greater of its fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Where an asset does not generate cash inflows largely independent of those from other assets, the recoverable amount is determined for the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows independently (i.e. a cash-generating unit).
- Recognition of impairment losses
An impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss if the carrying amount of an asset, or the cash-generating unit to which it belongs, exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses recognised in respect of cash-generating units are allocated to reduce the carrying amount of the assets in the unit (or group of units) on a pro rata basis, except that the carrying value of an asset will not be reduced below its individual fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable) or value in use (if determinable).
- Reversals of impairment losses
An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a favourable change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. A reversal of impairment loss is limited to the asset's carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised in prior years. Reversals of impairment losses are credited to profit or loss in the year in which the reversals are recognised.

(i) Inventories

Inventories are assets which are held for sale in the ordinary course of business, in the process of production for such sale or in the form of materials or supplies to be consumed in the production process.

Inventories are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Cost is calculated using the weighted average cost formula and comprises all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

When inventories are sold, the carrying amount of those inventories is recognised as an expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognised. The amount of any write-down of inventories to net realisable value and all losses of inventories are recognised as an expense in the period the write-down or loss occurs. The amount of any reversal of any write-down of inventories is recognised as a reduction in the amount of inventories recognised as an expense in the period in which the reversal occurs.

(j) Contract liabilities

A contract liability is recognised when the customer pays non-refundable consideration before the Group recognises the related revenue (see note 1(r)). A contract liability would also be recognised if the Group has an unconditional right to receive non-refundable consideration before the Group recognises the related revenue. In such cases, a corresponding receivable would also be recognised (see note 1(k)).

(k) Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are recognised when the Group has an unconditional right to receive consideration. A right to receive consideration is unconditional if only time and the payment of a small amount of consideration are required for the Group to receive the consideration.

(m) Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently stated at amortised cost unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at cost.

(n) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and on hand, demand deposits with banks and other financial institutions, and short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, having been within three months of maturity at acquisition. Cash and cash equivalents are assessed for ECL in accordance with the policy set out in note 1(h)(i).

(o) Employee benefits

(i) Short term employee benefits and contributions to defined contribution retirement plans

Salaries, annual bonuses, paid annual leave, contributions to defined contribution retirement plans and the cost of non-monetary benefits are accrued in the year in which the associated services are rendered by employees. Where payment or settlement is deferred and the effect would be material, these amounts are stated at their present values.

Contributions to appropriate local defined contribution retirement schemes pursuant to the relevant labour rules and regulations in the PRC are recognised as an expense in profit or loss as incurred, except to the extent that they are included in the cost of inventories not yet recognised as an expense.

(ii) Share-based payments

The fair value of share options granted to employees of the Group is recognised as an employee cost with a corresponding increase in a capital reserve within equity. The fair value is measured at the grant date using applicable option-pricing models, taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the options were granted. Where the employees have to meet vesting conditions before becoming unconditionally entitled to the options, the total estimated fair value of the options is spread over the vesting period, taking into account the probability that the options will vest.

During the vesting period, the number of share options that is expected to vest is reviewed. Any resulting adjustment to the cumulative fair value recognised in prior years is charged/credited to the profit or loss for the year of the review, unless the original employee expenses qualify for recognition as an asset, with a corresponding adjustment to the capital reserve. On the vesting date, the amount recognised as an expense is adjusted to reflect the actual number of options that vest (with a corresponding adjustment to the capital reserve) except where forfeiture is only due to not achieving vesting conditions that relate to the market price of the Company's shares. The equity amount is recognised in the capital reserve until either the option is exercised (when it is transferred to the share premium account) or the option expires (when it is released directly to retained profits).

(p) Income tax

Income tax for the year comprises current tax and movements in deferred tax assets and liabilities. Current tax and movements in deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that they relate to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the relevant amounts of tax are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities arise from deductible and taxable temporary differences respectively, being the differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and their tax bases. Deferred tax assets also arise from unused tax losses and unused tax credits.

Apart from certain limited exceptions, all deferred tax liabilities, and all deferred tax assets to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the asset can be utilised, are recognised. Future taxable profits that may support the recognition of deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences include those that will arise from the reversal of existing taxable temporary differences, provided those differences relate to the same taxation authority and the same taxable entity, and are expected to reverse either in the same period as the expected reversal of the deductible temporary difference or in periods into which a tax loss arising from the deferred tax asset can be carried back or forward. The same criteria are adopted when determining whether existing taxable temporary differences support the recognition of deferred tax assets arising from unused tax losses and credits, that is, those differences are taken into account if they relate to the same taxation authority and the same taxable entity, and are expected to reverse in a period, or periods, in which the tax loss or credit can be utilised.

The limited exceptions to recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities are those temporary differences arising from goodwill not deductible for tax purposes, the initial recognition of assets or liabilities that affect neither accounting nor taxable profit (provided they are not part of a business combination), and temporary differences relating to investments in subsidiaries to the extent that, in the case of taxable differences, the Group controls the timing of the reversal and it is probable that the differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future, or in the case of deductible differences, unless it is probable that they will reverse in the future.

The amount of deferred tax recognised is measured based on the expected manner of realisation or settlement of the carrying amount of the assets and liabilities, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of each reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

Foreign currency transactions during the year are translated at the foreign exchange rates ruling at the transaction dates. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the foreign exchange rates ruling at the end of reporting period. Exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the foreign exchange rates ruling at the transaction dates. The transaction date is the date on which the company initially recognises such non-monetary assets or liabilities.

The results of operations outside mainland China are translated into Renminbi at the average exchange rates for the year which approximating the foreign exchange rates ruling at the dates of the transactions. Statement of financial position items are translated into Renminbi at the closing foreign exchange rates ruling at the end of reporting period. The resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity in the exchange reserve.

On disposal of an operation outside mainland China, the cumulative amount of the exchange differences relating to that foreign operation is reclassified from equity to profit or loss when the profit or loss on disposal is recognised.

(t) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset which necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are expensed in the year in which they are incurred.

(u) Research and development

Research and development costs comprise all costs that are directly attributable to research and development activities or that can be allocated on a reasonable basis to such activities. Because of the nature of the Group's research and development activities, the criteria for the recognition of such costs as an asset are generally not met until late in the development stage of the project when the remaining development costs are immaterial. Hence both research costs and development costs are generally recognised as expenses in the period in which they are incurred.

(v) Derivative financial instruments

Derivative financial instruments are recognised at fair value. At the end of each reporting period, the fair value is remeasured. The gain or loss on remeasurement to fair value is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

(x) Segment reporting

Operating segments, and the amounts of each segment item reported in the financial statements, are identified from the financial information provided regularly to the Group's most senior executive management for the purposes of allocating resources to, and assessing the performance of, the Group's various lines of business and geographical locations.

Individually material operating segments are not aggregated for financial reporting purposes unless the segments have similar economic characteristics and are similar in respect of the nature of products and services, the nature of production processes, the type or class of customers, the methods used to distribute the products or provide the services, and the nature of the regulatory environment. The local government authorities are responsible for the pension obligations payable to the retired employees covered under the Schemes.

The Group also operates a Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme (the "MPF scheme") under the Hong Kong Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Ordinance for employees employed in Hong Kong. The MPF scheme is a defined contribution retirement scheme administered by independent trustees. Under the MPF scheme, the Group and its employees are each required to make contributions to the scheme at 5% of the employees' relevant income, subject to a cap of monthly relevant income of HK$30,000. Contributions to the scheme vest immediately.

The Group has no other material obligation for the payment of pension benefits beyond the contributions described above.

These evaluations focus on the customer's history of making payments when due and current ability to pay, and take into account information specific to the customer as well as pertaining to the economic environment in which the customer operates. Trade receivables are due within 90 to 240 days from the date of billing. The Group will also obtain deposits from customers prior to delivery of goods when credit limits granted are temporarily exceeded.

The Group's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristics of each customer, therefore significant concentrations of credit risk primarily arise when the Group has significant exposure to individual customers. At the end of the reporting period, 2.4% (2019: 4.6%) and 13.9% (2019: 15.7%) of the total trade receivables was due from the Group's largest customer and the five largest customers respectively.

The Group measures loss allowances for trade receivables at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs, which is calculated using a provision matrix. As the Group's historical credit loss experience does not indicate significantly different loss patterns for different customer segments, the loss allowance based on past due status is not further distinguished between the Group's different customer bases.

The following table provides information about the Group's exposure to credit risk and ECLs for trade receivables:

	Expected loss rate %	2020 Gross carrying amount RMB'000	Loss allowance RMB'000
Current (not past due)	0.6%	700,852	3,901

29 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT AND FAIR VALUE (CONTINUED)

The Group keeps assessing the expected loss rates based on the Group's historical credit loss experience over the past years. These rates are adjusted to reflect differences between economic conditions during the period over which the historic data has been collected, current conditions and the Group's view of economic conditions over the expected lives of the receivables.

The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the carrying amount of each financial asset in the consolidated statement of financial position.

At 31 December 2020, the Group had endorsed bank acceptance bills to its suppliers totalling RMB287,460,000 (2019: RMB325,668,000), which were derecognised as financial assets. The transferees have recourse to the Group in case of default by the issuing banks. In such cases, the Group would have to repurchase these bank acceptance bills at face value. Because these bank acceptance bills mature within six months from issue, the Group's maximum loss in case of default is RMB287,460,000 (2019: RMB325,668,000) before these bills mature by 30 June 2021.

The Group only accepts bank acceptance bills issued by major banks in the PRC and considers that the credit risk associated with such bank acceptance bills to be insignificant.

(b) Liquidity risk

The Group's policy is to regularly monitor its current and expected liquidity requirements to ensure that it maintains sufficient reserves of cash and adequate committed lines of funding from major financial institutions to meet its liquidity requirements in the short and longer term.

The following tables present the remaining contractual maturities at the end of the reporting period of the Group's financial liabilities, which are based on contractual undiscounted cash flows (including interest payments computed using contractual rates or, if floating, based on rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period) and the earliest date the Group can be required to pay.

	31 December 2020				Carrying Amount RMB'000
	Contractual Undiscounted Cash Outflow			Total RMB'000

(c) Currency risk

The Group's businesses are principally conducted in RMB and most of the Group's monetary assets and liabilities are denominated in RMB. Accordingly, the management consider the Group's exposure to currency risk is not significant. The Group does not employ any financial instruments for hedging purposes.

(d) Fair value

All financial assets and liabilities are carried at amounts not materially different from their fair values as at 31 December 2020 and 2019.

31 MATERIAL RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In addition to the related party information disclosed elsewhere in the financial statements, the Group entered into the following material related party transactions.

On 16 December 2019, the Group entered into a tenancy agreement (“Tenancy Agreement”) with Jinlang (Fujian) Investments Co., Ltd (“Jinlang Fujian”) for the lease of leasehold properties for a term from 1 January 2020 to 30 June 2021 at a monthly rent of RMB286,000. Pursuant to the Tenancy Agreement, the Group may terminate the Tenancy Agreement at any time during the term of the Tenancy Agreement by serving not less than one month prior written notice to Jinlang Fujian. Assuming that the early termination option will not be exercised, the present value of the rent payable for the entire term under the Tenancy Agreement recognised as a right-of-use asset by the Group at the date of inception pursuant to IFRS 16 amounted to approximately RMB4,979,000. The tenancy arrangement contemplated under the Tenancy Agreement constituted a connected transaction of the Company under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules in 2019.

For the year 31 December 2020, total rental paid or payable by the Group to Jinlang Fujian under the Tenancy Agreement amounted to RMB3,432,000.

32 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

The methods, estimates and judgements the Directors used in applying the Group’s accounting policies have a significant impact on the Group’s financial position and operating results. Some of the accounting policies require the Group to apply estimates and judgements, on matters that are inherently uncertain. The critical accounting judgements in applying the Group’s accounting policies are described below.

(a) Depreciation and amortisation

Property, plant and equipment are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives. Intangible assets except for those with indefinite lives are amortised on straight line basis over the estimated useful lives. The Group reviews annually the useful life of an asset and its residual value, if any, based on the Group’s experience with similar assets and taking into account anticipated technology changes. The depreciation and amortisation expenses for future periods are adjusted if there are significant changes from previous estimation.

(b) Impairments for non-current assets

The Group reviews the carrying amounts of the non-current assets at the end of each reporting period to determine whether there is objective evidence of impairment. When indication of impairment is identified, management prepares discounted future cashflow to assess the differences between the carrying amount and value in use and provide for impairment loss. Any change in the assumption adopted in the cash flow forecasts would increase or decrease in the provision of impairment loss and affect the Group’s net asset value.

An increase or decrease in the above impairment loss would affect the net profit in the year and in future years.

(c) Income taxes

Determining income tax provisions involves judgement on the future tax treatment of certain transactions and interpretation of tax rules. The Group carefully evaluates tax implications of transactions and tax provisions are set up accordingly. The tax treatment of such transactions is reconsidered periodically to take into account all changes in tax legislation.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences. As those deferred tax assets can only be recognised to the extent that it is probable that future profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences can be utilised, management's judgement is required to assess the probability of future taxable profits.

(d) Net realisable value of inventories

The Group performs regular reviews of the carrying amounts of inventories with reference to aged inventories analysis, projections of expected future saleability of goods and management experience and judgement. Based on this review, write-down of inventories will be made when the carrying amounts of inventories decline below their estimated net realisable value. Due to changes in market conditions, actual saleability of goods may be different from estimation and profit or loss could be affected by differences in this estimation.

(e) Loss allowance for trade receivables

The Group estimates the loss allowances for trade receivables by assessing the ECLs. This requires the use of estimates and judgements. ECLs are based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors and an assessment of both the current and forecast general economic conditions at the end of reporting period. Where the estimation is different from the original estimate, such difference will affect the carrying amounts of trade receivables and thus the impairment loss in the period in which such estimate is changed. The Group keeps assessing the expected credit loss of trade receivables during their expected lives.

(f) Bank acceptance bills

As set out in note 29(a), the Group considers that the credit risk associated with bank acceptance bills issued by major banks in the PRC to be insignificant. The Group monitors the credit risk of issuing banks. The judgement to derecognise bank acceptance bills upon discounting or endorsement is reviewed when the credit risk of issuing banks deteriorates significantly.

33 POSSIBLE IMPACT OF AMENDMENTS, NEW STANDARDS AND INTERPRETATIONS ISSUED BUT NOT YET EFFECTIVE FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2020

Up to the date of issue of these financial statements, the IASB has issued a number of amendments and a new standard, IFRS 17, Insurance contracts, which are not yet effective for the year ended 31 December 2020 and which have not been adopted in these financial statements.

The Group is in the process of making an assessment of what the impact of these developments is expected to be in the period of initial application. So far it has concluded that the adoption of them is unlikely to have a significant impact on the consolidated financial statements.
